thinking about

vacant properties

or shrinking cities ?

Join the Vacant Property Research Network for breakfast during the EDRA Conference to share ideas

find collaborators discuss funding options pilot a match-making service for researchers + practitioners

Saturday, May 31st // 8:00am - 9:30am
Teddy's Cafe @ The Roosevelt Hotel (across from the Crowne Plaza)
rsvp to kjw@vt.edu

The Vacant Property Research Network, a project of Virginia Tech, conducts, promotes, and translates applied policy research about vacant, abandoned, and distressed properties.

Follow the conversation throughout the week:

Eco-urbanism: Sustainable Strategies for Vacant Land in St. Louis
C. Freixas and P. Fernandez, Washington Univ in St. Louis • 5.29 // 2:00pm

Holding Pattern: Landscape Strategies for Urban Vacancy in New Orleans
E. Mossop, Lousiana State University • 5.30 // 2:00pm

Rethinking Space: Community Garden Design in Shrinking Cities
V. Morckel, Univ of Michigan-Flint • 5.31 // 10:30am

Landscape Under Receivership: Property and Abandonment J. Desimini, Harvard University • 5.31 // 11:00am

vacantpropertyresearch.com

VirginiaTech
Invent the Future®